Digital television
made simple.

digital on

So what exactly is digital television?

Digital television is simply a better way of watching TV.

The pictures are pin sharp, the sound is crystal clear, and you can watch in cinema-style widescreen with the latest television sets.

But there's more to digital TV than great sound and pictures, because you also get more of the programmes you really want to watch.

And now thanks to ONdigital, you can be sure getting digital television is refreshingly simple and affordable.

No dish. No cable. Simply an aerial.

ONdigital is really simple to switch on and use because it comes through a normal TV aerial. So you don't need a dish or cable.

All you do need is an ONdigital box that sits on top of your TV and plugs into the back of the set, or a digital TV that has the technology built in.

You can even unplug your box from one television and plug it into another, so you can view digital TV wherever you are in the house.

Once you've bought your ONdigital box or digital TV and completed an application form, you simply switch on and enjoy.

Will my aerial pick up ONdigital?

YES! In the majority of cases, your existing TV aerial will be ideal.

Some viewers may need an upgrade to their existing aerial. Subject to our terms and conditions, ONdigital will be happy to arrange for a Standard Aerial Upgrade if required. This includes the adjustment or replacement of most existing domestic aerials.

A free Standard Aerial Upgrade may not be available in every case, if for example your aerial system is particularly complex or is part of a shared system. Written terms and conditions are available on request.

Coverage

Already, ONdigital reaches the majority of the UK population. This coverage will rapidly increase over the next 18 months. Ask your retailer to check your coverage and tell you which channels you will be able to receive.

The Fast Show. UK Play.

Let your TV make your life simpler

With ONdigital you also get our ONscreen Guide. Fast and easy to use, your guide shows you what's on now and what programmes are to follow, all without interrupting your viewing.

Soon ONdigital will offer you a range of pay per view programmes. And with an optional keyboard, ONdigital customers will be able to send and receive e-mail through their TV set.

You won't have to upgrade your ONdigital box to get all these services, so you can be sure it's a good long term investment.

What channels will I be able to watch?

Receiving digital TV through an aerial is the best way of seeing all your favourite channels in digital as well as a wide selection of new ones. That's because digital ITV and the new ITV2 are not available on satellite.

You'll also get BBC ONE, BBC TWO, Channel 4 and Channel 5 in digital quality. Plus other new 'free to view' channels, including BBC NEWS 24 and BBC CHOICE.

On top of these you can receive a choice of other great channels from key terrestrial broadcasters as well as Digital Teletext which is coming soon.

To make things simple, we've grouped the channels you can watch under three headings: free to view, primary and premium.

Free to view channels

BBC ONE, BBC TWO, ITV, Channel 4, Channel 5 and Digital Teletext are known as 'free to view' channels. If you receive digital TV through an aerial you can watch them in digital at no extra cost. There are other exciting new 'free to view' channels to watch too – ITV2, BBC CHOICE and BBC NEWS 24. All BBC digital services are available as part of the licence fee.

ONdigital primary channels

You can also view a variety of primary channels which you pay for by subscription. These offer lots for all the family, including documentaries, films, sports and cartoons. Choose any six or go for all of ONdigital's primary channels – the choice is yours, and the amount you pay depends on the number you take. You also get First ONdigital and Shop! as free bonuses.

ONdigital premium channels

For a little extra each month you can watch FilmFour or the Sky premium channels – Sky Premier, Sky MovieMax, and Sky Sports 1 (with Sky Sports 3 as a bonus channel). So you can catch everything from the latest blockbusters to all the live televised premier league soccer action.

on^{digital}

Pick and mix – choose the channels you want to watch

Some television companies only offer set packages that include channels you don't want. Worse still, you have to pay for the channels you never view.

So it's good to know that ONdigital lets you choose the channels you want to watch. ONdigital is the only service which gives you this freedom of choice.

A great choice of channels

You can choose any six or take all of our primary channels.

That's in addition to two bonus services: First ONdigital (our special showcase service featuring first screenings of major dramas, entertainment, comedy, music and exclusive sporting occasions) and Shop!, a new shopping channel from Granada and Littlewoods.

Then simply add and pay for the premium channels you want.

As an introductory offer you'll receive all ONdigital primary channels for the price of six for the first three months.

Then, you simply pick those you want to receive to create your very own line up.

You can also change your choice of channels free of charge. We just ask that you keep them for a minimum of 30 days.

How does it all work?

More choice through your aerial

on^{digital}

It's as simple as pressing a button

The remote control that came with your set top box or integrated TV gives you more control over your television viewing than ever before. You can do everything from finding out what's coming up on one channel while you're watching another, to 'locking' a TV channel so that your children can't watch it by mistake.

The best way to get to know the various features of your ONdigital set top box or integrated TV is to find yourself a few spare minutes, turn the TV on and follow this simple guide. Don't be frightened of experimenting – you can't press a 'wrong' button. You may notice that the colour of your screen displays differ from the guide depending on the make of your set top box or integrated TV.

On-screen TV guide

With ONdigital, it's easy to find out what's on now and next across the whole range of ONdigital channels – all from the comfort of your armchair.

- When watching digital TV, launch the on-screen TV guide by pressing the INFO button on your remote.
- The guide appears on the screen. The top section displays the current channel number, name, programme name and time.
- At the same time, the lower section displays the same channel name and number, the name of the programme you are currently watching and the programme that's on next.
- For more information about the programme you are watching, press the BLUE button.
- When the additional information is displayed, use the UP and DOWN ARROW to scroll to a second page (if applicable). When you're done, press the BLUE button again.
- Press the YELLOW button and you can find out about the programme that follows.
- To look for programme information on channels other than the one you are watching, use the UP and DOWN ARROW buttons. When you do this the top part of the display doesn't change, but the lower section can display the current and next programmes on any other channel you choose.
- If you see a programme you want to watch, go straight to that channel by pressing SELECT.
- To remove the on-screen guide without changing channels, press the INFO or EXIT button.

On-screen channel list

This is simply a list of channel names and their numbers as they have been tuned on your box or TV. It lets you go straight to a channel even if you can't remember its number.

- When watching a digital channel, press SELECT. This will display the channel list.
- Six channels at a time will be displayed on-screen, with the channel you are watching already highlighted.
- Use the UP and DOWN ARROW buttons to scroll down the list of channels.
- The LEFT and RIGHT ARROW buttons can also be used to advance the channel list a whole page at a time.
- When the channel you want to see is highlighted, press the SELECT button.
- To leave the channel list without changing channels, press the EXIT button.

Favourite channels

The favourite channel feature allows you to identify certain channels and exclude all other channels from being selected when you use the P+ and P- buttons.

It means you can skip straight past any channels you don't subscribe to and find the channel you want faster and easier.

- When you're watching a digital channel, press MENU.
- From the main menu, select option 2 by pressing the number 2 button. This will display a list of current channels.
- Use the UP and DOWN ARROW buttons to highlight a channel that you want to select as one of your favourites, then press the SELECT button. A heart symbol appears, confirming you've selected that channel. Continue to select other channels in this way, first highlighting them and then pressing the SELECT button.
- When you have placed hearts against all the channels you want to be your favourites, you then need to switch the favourites mode ON. The bottom of the screen indicates that you 'switch favourites on' by pressing the GREEN button. As you do this the menu heading at the top of the screen will indicate that 'favourites are on'.
- If you want to switch the favourites mode off at any time, go back through the main menu and this time the bottom of the screen will indicate that you 'switch favourites off' by pressing the GREEN button. As you do, the top of the screen will indicate that 'favourites are off'.
- Should you wish to de-select some channels as your favourites, repeat the above steps, selecting option 2 from the main menu, highlighting the channel that you want to de-select using the UP and DOWN ARROW buttons, then finally press SELECT to remove the heart symbol.

- Once you have chosen your channels and switched the favourites mode on, when you use the P+ and P- buttons, you will only scroll through the selected channels.
- When using the UP and DOWN ARROW buttons with the on-screen TV guide, you will also see favourites only. To see other channels in this instance, use the number buttons or the on-screen channel list.

Parental lock

This feature enables you to choose a 4 digit parental code that the set top box or integrated TV recognises as a 'pin number'. This number can then be used to 'lock' individual digital channels and prevent access to them until the correct code is entered.

- When watching a digital channel, press the MENU button. From the main menu, select option 3 – parental lock – by pressing number 3 button.
- The very first time you select this option, you will see two further menu options: 'enter new parental code' and 'choose channels to lock or unlock'. Before you can choose channels to lock, you must first enter a new parental code. Press button 1 to select this option.
- The screen now prompts you to enter your four digit code. Do this using the number buttons on your remote.
- Once you have entered your code, press SELECT to confirm it. You will then see a message asking you to remember your code.
- Press the RED button to return to the previous menu.
- You should now select option 2 'choose channels to lock or unlock' by pressing number 2 button on your remote.
- First, enter your parental code and press SELECT to confirm it.
- You will then see the list of channels to which you can apply the parental lock. If you have already set up any favourite channels, the heart symbols will already be appearing on this channel list.
- Select locked channels in the same way as you did your favourites, using the UP and DOWN ARROW buttons to highlight the channels you want to lock, then pressing the SELECT button. As you do, a padlock symbol will be displayed next to the channel name.
- Continue to do this for all the channels you want to lock.
- You then need to 'activate' the locked channels by closing the padlocks. At the moment, the bottom of the screen will indicate that you 'close locks' by pressing the GREEN button. As you do this, the menu heading at the top of the screen will indicate that 'locks are closed'.

- With the parental lock active, you will be unable to view channels which you have locked until the parental code is entered. When a locked channel is selected, a message will tell you it is a locked channel.

To view a locked channel

- After going to the locked channel, press SELECT and enter your parental code using the number buttons on your remote. Once entered, press SELECT to confirm the code and unlock the channel.
- If you subsequently change channels and then return to the locked channel, the parental code will need to be entered again.
- If you want to temporarily unlock all your channels without removing the padlocks, you can do so by going back through the parental lock menu.
- Select option 2, 'choose channels to lock or unlock' and enter your parental code.
- The bottom of the screen will be indicating that you can 'open locks' by pressing the GREEN button. As you do, the heading of the screen will change to confirm that 'locks are open'.
- Once you have opened padlocks in this way, you will no longer need to enter your parental code each time a locked channel is selected.
- After unlocking all the channels, remember that you will need to 'close locks' again to prevent the locked channels being accessible by all.
- If you forget your parental code our Customer Service Representatives will be able to help you on 0870 600 9696.

Connecting your video to your set top box

There are two ways in which a video recorder can be connected to your ONdigital box, depending on whether your video has a rectangular 'SCART' socket.

If you have a SCART socket, connect the lead from the SCART socket on your video to the SCART VCR socket on your ONdigital box. When you want to record a digital channel, you should select the channel on your video assigned to the SCART socket (refer to your video's instruction book for details). This tells your video that it should record the programmes that are being sent to it through the SCART lead.

If you can't use a SCART lead between your box and video, you will have to manually select and tune a new channel on your video in order to record digital programmes. You can do this in the same way you tuned a channel to record BBC ONE or ITV. As most video recorders work in different ways, please refer to your video's instruction book to find out how to tune yours.

Connecting your video to your integrated TV

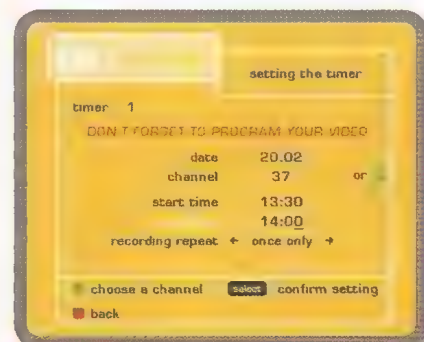

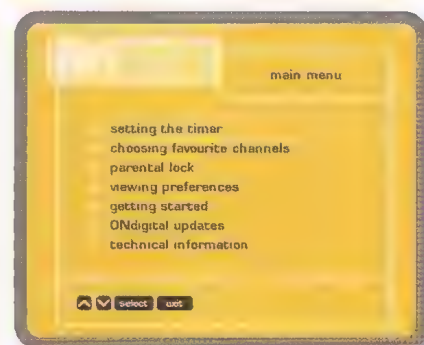

There are also different ways to connect your video if you have an integrated TV, depending on the type of TV you have. Your TV instruction book will include simple steps showing you how to do this.

Using the timer

The timer feature means that you are not limited to recording from one digital channel. You can program your set top box or integrated TV to change channels at the same time as your video – up to eight different time slots in total. Remember that you also need to set the timer on your video.

- To begin with, you should press the MENU button on your remote to display the main menu.
- From here, select the 'setting the timer' option by pressing number button 1, then choose an available timer slot by highlighting it and pressing SELECT.
- Details of the date, start time, end time and channel number should then be entered using the number buttons. You should use the DOWN ARROW button to move to the next line once the required information has been entered.
- Once all details have been entered, confirm the timer setting by pressing the SELECT button. A summary of the timer settings will then be displayed on-screen.
- You can either continue to enter details of another timer setting or, once you have finished, press the EXIT button to leave the menu and return to watching TV.
- For the timer setting to activate, you must leave your ONdigital box or integrated TV in standby once you have finished watching.
- If you don't put your box or TV into standby after setting the timer and you're still watching TV when the timer is about to start, you will hear a short 'beep' and see either 'rEd' displayed on the front panel of the box, or a similar message on your TV.
- Pressing the RED button on your remote displays a message indicating that a timer event is about to start. It asks you to confirm whether you want to continue watching the channel you are on or switch to the channel chosen for the timer.

Remember, you can't watch one ONdigital channel and record a different ONdigital channel at the same time. However, you can watch a different analogue channel while recording an ONdigital channel and vice versa. Detailed steps for setting the timer are included in the full manufacturer instruction book.

Subtitled programmes

Many ONdigital programmes carry subtitles, with more set to follow. They're very easy to access. If you have a subtitle button on your remote it can be used to switch subtitles on and off while you are viewing.

If you would like subtitles always to be displayed whenever they are available here are the steps to follow:

- Press the MENU button on your remote, then select option 4 'viewing preferences' then option 1 'ONdigital box settings'.
- Then select option 2 'subtitles'. If you select 'on', subtitles will always be displayed when they are available. If you select 'off', they will not be displayed unless you use the subtitle button.
- Now select option 3 'subtitle language' and highlight English without the picture of the ear alongside. (Welsh subtitles are available for some S4C programmes in the S4C region.)

If your menu options differ from those above, please refer to your instruction book.

Auto update

ONdigital plans to introduce lots of new services throughout the coming months. Many of these, such as pay per view, will require minor changes to the software within your set top box or integrated TV. But don't worry – these changes can be carried out just by pressing a couple of buttons on your remote control.

Here's what to do:

- When watching a digital channel, press the MENU button on your remote. You will see the main menu screen appear on your TV.
- Select option 7 'technical information'.
- Select option 3 'auto update'.
- You will then see a message asking if you really want to start a download. Press SELECT to confirm that you want to carry out the update.
- If you have a box it will go into standby and the message 'auto update' will scroll across the front display. If you have an integrated TV, the message will be displayed on-screen. The update will take around five minutes, and you will not be able to watch digital channels while the update process is taking place.
- Please do not switch off or unplug your ONdigital box or TV until the update has finished.
- When the update is complete your ONdigital box or TV will restart.

If you see the message 'update error', this just means that you already have the latest software on-board. If you see any other messages please refer to your instruction book.

How to pick your favourites with ONrequest

ONrequest – your choice for great entertainment

Do you like watching movies but sometimes miss the latest blockbusters at the cinema? Wouldn't you like to be able to stay at home and see them on your television, simply by pressing a few buttons on your remote control?

ONrequest is a great new service that will bring you the best in digital television entertainment – with movie premieres, sports events and much more. It means you can help yourself to a great choice of entertainment whenever you want. So, get ready to sit back, relax and treat yourself.

The best movies for you to watch

We've made special arrangements with major Hollywood studios to bring you the first TV broadcasts of some of the latest and greatest box office hits. With ONrequest, you'll be able to see what all the fuss is about while everyone's still talking about them.

Better still, we will be expanding the service to bring you top sports and other live special events, too. Best of all, you only pay for what you watch and, if you are already an ONdigital subscriber, there are no connection fees.

Press for action

ONrequest is really simple to use. In fact you could say it's child's play because if you can use a remote control, you can use ONrequest. Using your remote control is the quick and easy way to order, although you can also call our automated telephone order line.

Films at your fingertips

You'll find us on Channels 50-55 and every day we will be broadcasting a range of movies at convenient viewing times. It's easy to take a look at what we're showing each day. If there's a film you've really wanted to see, go ahead and order it. If you're not sure, you can preview the film – free of charge – before you order it.

Then simply sit back and enjoy the movie at the time that suits you best.

Finding out what's on

Channel 50 is our Information channel where you can find details of how to order as well as up to the minute programme listings, previews and information about the service. You can also use our On-screen Guide to find out what's showing now and later and to place your order. There's always a full review of the month's films and programmes in the ONdigital TV Guide sent free to all subscribers, and online at www.onrequest.co.uk.

Getting started is easy

Your remote control is the key to using ONrequest. You can operate everything quickly and simply and it's the easiest way to order movies, too, with just a few clicks needed to confirm your order. First, you need to connect your set top box to a telephone socket; follow the simple step-by-step guide on the next page.

A few simple steps

This is how you connect your set top box or idTV* to your telephone line so that it can send your orders straight through to us. Don't worry, plugging it in won't mean changing your existing phone supplier and it won't cost you anything other than the price of your order calls, which are charged at the national call rate and should each last no longer than about 30 seconds.

Above all, safety first. Please switch off and disconnect your set top box or idTV from the mains, then take a look on the back and familiarise yourself with the diagram below.

For this step you will need a telephone cable. If you've misplaced the original cable that came with your box, a replacement can be ordered by phoning our customer service team on 0870 600 9696. If your original cable isn't long enough to reach the nearest telephone socket, we can also supply you with a simple extension kit.

(The location of sockets on this diagram will vary according to the make of your set top box or idTV.)

Once you have your telephone cable, connect one end into the back of the set top box or idTV (labelled as 'modem' or 'telephone') and put the adapter into the telephone socket on your wall, remembering to plug your phone back in to the empty socket of the adapter. If you are unsure simply refer back to the diagram.

You must have your set top box connected to enable you to order films through your remote control.

Now the connections have been made, plug your set top box or idTV back in to the mains supply and switch it on.

Step 2

Once you have plugged everything back in and have switched on your set top box or idTV, you will need to perform the auto update. This will automatically download the ONrequest software.

First go to channel 51, then press the MENU button, and select option 7 'technical information'. From this menu, choose option 3 'auto update'. You will be asked if you want to start a download, press the select button to start downloading the software. You should now see the message 'auto update' scrolling on the front of your digital box or on the screen of your idTV. If you see the message 'update error', this means that you already have the latest software and can go straight to the next stage.

When the auto update has finished select Channel 51 on your set top box and wait for a few seconds. Your digital box or idTV will then automatically update ONrequest.

This can take a few minutes and you won't be able to change channels while this is happening. You will see a message saying 'Your set top box is being updated. Please wait.'

(If you have any difficulties in doing the above, please call our customer service team on 0870 600 9696 for assistance.)

Ordering your programmes

You can do this through your On-screen Guide which takes you through each simple step and makes ordering easy. At any time on Channel 50, press 'Guide' on your remote, then select 'ONrequest' and follow the on-screen ordering instructions.

*Please note that some set top boxes and idTVs may not be able to receive ONrequest at this stage, please check with us for availability.

Ordering through your remote control means your set top box will send us your order down the phone line. Our system recognises your details and sends back confirmation of your order almost immediately. You can then watch any single showing of your chosen film, whenever you choose, during that day. (Please note that our 'day' starts and finishes at 6.00 a.m.)

For convenient and efficient ordering we recommend that you use your remote control. Alternatively, you can use the 'Order by Phone' option shown on the On-screen Guide. Calls will be charged at national call rates and should take less than a minute to complete.

It's quick and easy to pay

There are no separate bills to worry about with ONrequest because your order is automatically charged to you. If you are currently paying a monthly subscription to ONdigital, we will use the same payment details for your ONrequest orders. If not, then you will need to let us have your payment details before you order. We can do this over the telephone, just call 0870 600 9696.

And, because each programme you order is charged individually and appears on your bank or credit card statement (normally 3 working days), you can see exactly what you've ordered and what you're paying for.

Control what they watch with your Parental Code

The Parental Code lets you control the programmes which can be viewed in your home. You will need to use your Parental Code PIN number if you wish to watch 12, 15 or 18 ONrequest-rated movies earlier in the day than is normally allowed. This normal earliest showing time is generally called the 'watershed' and is designed to protect younger viewers from unsuitable material.

We are allowed to broadcast movies all day provided that showings before the watershed are PIN protected. These times are as follows:

Movie Rating	Normal watershed earliest showing	ONrequest broadcasts
ONrequest 12	8pm	All day
ONrequest 15	8pm	All day
ONrequest 18	10pm	All day

Broadcasts before the watershed will need to be unlocked by your Parental Code number.

This Parental Code PIN number will be useful for other services on your digital box – locking channels or accessing ONmail, for example. We strongly advise you to select your own code as soon as possible. Press 'Menu' on your remote, select 'Parental Lock' and follow the on-screen instructions. If you've already set up a Parental Code in this way, it will not be changed and you should continue to use it. If you haven't selected your own PIN yet, your smart card will use a special default number which we have advised you about separately. You can change this at any time by using the process described above.

If you can't remember your PIN, please call our customer service team on 0870 600 9696.

With ONrequest it's easy to get what you want, when you want it. So go ahead and help yourself ... to ONrequest.

Copy Protection

Because of the high quality of our digital broadcasts, the film studios require us to transmit their movies with a copy protection system to prevent unauthorised copying. This electronic signal will not affect your normal viewing, but will make video recordings unwatchable.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION

16 March 2001

Dear [redacted]

Welcome to your fourth free issue of the new weekly TV listings guide, ON7. As we stated in the last three issues, this is your last free issue of ON7. If you do not want to pay 39p an issue to receive future copies of ON7 you need to let us know by calling us on 0870 600 9696 or by returning one of the reply paid cards we sent with the first three issues.

Before you enjoy your fourth free issue I would like to explain again why we are no longer able to produce your monthly listings guide and instead bring you ON7.

The move by several important channels towards publishing only weekly listings makes it impossible for us to continue to produce an accurate monthly guide. We just don't have the information far enough in advance. We put a number of alternatives to a group of our customers and the vast majority felt that it was better to withdraw the monthly guide and produce a weekly magazine at a small charge. By moving to a weekly guide we can also now include TV listings for BBC1, BBC2, ITV, Channel 4 and Channel 5 and the other digital channels.

We believe having ON7 delivered to your home for just £1.69 a month (39p* an issue) is both convenient and excellent value. However, if you decide you do not wish to receive ON7 all you have to do is contact us before 28th March 2001.

For those of you that choose not to receive ON7 we've developed a monthly highlights guide that tells you about the best programmes in the month ahead, but unfortunately, cannot include detailed programme listings. If you have already registered that you would like to opt out of ON7 you do not need to contact us again.

If you are one of our customers who does not make a regular monthly payment because you have our ONdigital basic prepaid arrangement, you will need to call us to confirm your address and make arrangement for payment before we can start to send you ON7.

Please do not hesitate to call us if you have any other questions regarding ON7, your new weekly guide. We hope you continue to enjoy it!

Many thanks,

Nick Bowman
Director of Customer Services

* Your monthly charge will be increased by £1.69 per month, this figure is calculated as 39p a week for 52 weeks a year spread over 12 months, and is payable following expiry of your first 4 free copies.

There are two main ways to get ONdigital – with a free ONdigital box or through an Integrated Digital Television (idTV).

Or if you prefer, you can choose one of our Prepaid options – these are detailed in separate leaflets.

How to get ONdigital

Free ONdigital box

All you need to receive ONdigital is an ONdigital set top box that plugs in to your TV.

The box is free to all ONdigital subscribers while they subscribe. It comes with clear instructions, so it's simple to set up (usually in less than 20 minutes). One of the handy things about ONdigital is that you can use the box in any room that has an aerial socket.

Once you have your free box you then simply pay a monthly subscription depending on your choice of channels and additional services. To find out more, turn to page 11.

You can also choose to take ONnet – Internet access through your TV for just £5 extra per month (plus call charges). Your ONnet box sits neatly on top of your ONdigital box and is free while you subscribe.

idTVs are preloaded with any six available Primary channels for 12 months.

idTVs come with ONdigital technology built in – so there's no need for a dish, cable or even a set top box. This makes ONdigital the natural choice for idTV owners, plus idTVs now come preloaded with your choice of six available ONdigital Primary channels for the first 12 months at no extra cost. You can also choose to take ONnet – Internet access through your TV.

To receive ONdigital all you need is a Smartcard which slots into your TV. (Some televisions will also require a credit card-sized CAM module, supplied free of charge.) You will be sent this Smartcard together with your CAM, if necessary, when you buy your idTV.

If you choose to take all available ONdigital Primary channels or our Premium channels, then you simply call ONdigital and pay a monthly subscription.

To find out more, turn to page 13.

Important information on new channels

Dear Customer,

We are proud to announce the launch of two exciting Primary channels on the 1st of January 2001 – Nickelodeon and the Paramount Comedy Channel – giving you even greater choice and entertainment.

To receive these great channels, you must perform an 'add channels' update using your set top box and remote control, which must be done before you can receive these channels. For full details on this simple procedure, follow the instructions on page 179 of this month's TV guide.

With Nickelodeon, both young and old can enjoy a colourful mix of both live action shows like Sabrina the Teenage Witch, and wacky cartoons like Rugrats and Hey Arnold!

The Paramount Comedy Channel is full of laughs. You'll find classic comedy like Frasier, along side the likes of Spin City with Michael J Fox. For full programming details on both new channels, refer to this month's TV Guide.

Once you've completed the 'add channels' procedure you'll automatically receive these two great channels if you currently subscribe to all our available Primary channels.

If you don't have all our available Primary channels, why not call to upgrade your package and activate these channels? Simply phone us today on 0870 600 9696.

These great new additions to our channel line-up are just a part of our commitment to giving you the best range of viewing entertainment.

Yours sincerely,

Mr Nick Bowman

Dear [REDACTED]

I am delighted to announce the launch of three new digital text services. They offer you access to an amazing range of information and they are completely free of charge.

Digital Teletext, BBC Text and FourText are available to you now. They provide a wealth of information including sport, news, movies and finance. There are also pages covering TV listings and the weather. And, as time goes by, there will be more and more information available for you to access even faster than you can now.

How to get these new services

To get Digital Teletext, BBC Text and FourText you need to carry out a simple "auto update" on your box. You will find full details on how to perform this update on page 10 of your April ONdigital TV Guide.

There's so much more to come

In the near future, you'll be receiving news from us about exciting new interactive services. The first of these, ONmail, is exclusive to ONdigital and lets you send and receive email messages through your TV to any email address, anywhere in the world - for the price of a local call!

In the meantime, I'm sure you will be very impressed by these great new text channels. If you have any questions about these or any other ONdigital services, please do not hesitate to call us on 0870 600 9696.

There's never been a better time to be an ONdigital customer!

Great new ONdigital interactive services and channels coming your way
But you'll need to know where to look...

Dear [REDACTED]

I'd like to keep you up to date with some of the fantastic things happening at ONdigital.

Over the next few months ONdigital will be launching the first of their exciting new interactive services including ONmail and ONrequest.

ONmail is set to revolutionise the way we communicate by letting you and your family send and receive e-mails via your television. With ONrequest you can treat yourself to the latest blockbuster pay per view movies, showing the latest movies and special events. We will tell you more about these services very soon.

On February 1st we will also be launching exciting new channels.

Discovery Kids will feature adventure and entertainment for children of all ages and replaces Carlton Kids, while Carlton World makes way for Discovery Wings, a channel devoted to everything mankind has ever made to fly.

To clear the way for these new services and channels, we will be re-ordering the channel numbers on February 1st 2000 and your set top box will need to store the new information. So on this date - or as soon as you can afterwards - you will need to 'Store Channels' on your set-top box. But don't worry, the enclosed leaflet will guide you through this simple operation.

As these new channels are replacement channels, there'll be no increase in your Primary channel subscription. Of course, if you chose not to receive Carlton Kids/World but like the sound of these new channels, you can upgrade your subscription right now, simply by calling 0870 600 9696.

If you encounter any difficulties, the people at our Customer Service centre are ready to help between 8am and midnight, seven days a week. They're on 0870 600 9696.

Yours sincerely

Digital TV Through Your Aerial

Mediamaster 9850 T

Difference between analogue and digital signal

Analogue signals broadcast as a series of "waves" with each channel occupying its own "bandwidth"

Digital signals broadcast as a series of "compressed bits" using less capacity, therefore allowing more channels

What is digital television?

Just as CDs transformed our world of music, digital television is revolutionising the viewing patterns of every household in the country. More channels, crystal clear pictures, far superior sound quality, fantastic teletext services and in time, interactive features, such as surfing the Internet.

Digital TV will eventually replace the current analogue method of transmitting television, but in the meantime, all analogue services are being replicated on digital services.

Digital TV, through your aerial

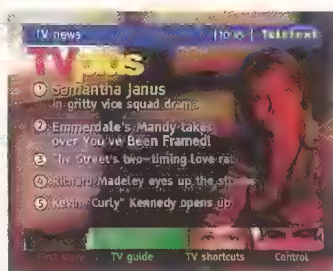

Nokia's Mediamaster 9850 T has been designed especially for ONdigital's broad range of digital terrestrial programming. It's simple to use: just plug it into your existing TV and a suitable aerial, in most cases your current aerial will be perfectly acceptable. You will then have access to all the terrestrial channels you currently enjoy - BBC, ITV, Channels 4 and 5, as well as a host of new free channels such as BBC News24, BBC Choice and ITV2. And the receiver's portable - you can plug your Mediamaster into any TV in the house, or caravan!

For the first time ever, Digital Teletext will have its very own dedicated channel. Full colour pictures and Web-style graphics make Digital Teletext easier to read – and fun to use. All the key sections will be available – TV listings, sport, news, weather and holidays. Gone will be the days of 'lego brick' type graphics and only 8 colours – with new computer-like displays using 256 colours, different types and sizes of lettering, characters and even photographs and video clips.

Nokia Mediamaster

The new generation of Nokia Mediamasters features a pure design, which blends perfectly with your home environment. Nokia products are well known for their excellent designs and high degree of functionality, and they continually receive the highest marks in international product test comparisons. In fact Nokia has won more awards than any other set-top box manufacturer.

The Mediamaster 9850 T provides all the features to comply with ONdigital's specification and those of other UK digital terrestrial operators. This includes full MPEG-2 support, pan & scan and letterbox video formats, sophisticated audio options and serial data interface for software upgrading. The product features high resolution graphics with 256 colours and environmentally friendly green stand-by. Nokia has even created a new ergonomic remote control, designed especially for both left- and right-handed users.

The Nokia Mediamaster 9850 T is ready for pay-per-view and interactive services. It features a Common Interface connector as well as a built-in modem, and is fully DVB compliant.

The future

Two small steps for you. One giant leap for television

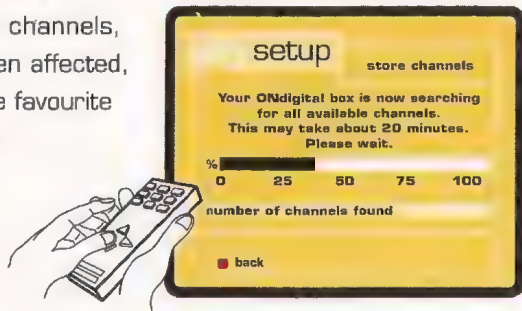

We're planning to bring a whole new range of exciting services to your television: ONmail, ONrequest, ONgames, great new channels and lots more. But to be able to take advantage of any of them, you will need to re-tune your set top box on February 1st 2000 – or as soon as you can after that date. This is how you go about it:

- 1 First tune into any ONdigital channel then press MENU on your remote control. With the main menu on screen, select option 5 'getting started' by pressing button number 5 on your remote. You will see a screen including options to 'add channels' or 'store channels'. Choose option 4 'store channels' using the DOWN ARROW button and press SELECT. You will now see a screen asking you if you want to continue, press SELECT to do so.

- 2 Your ONdigital box will now automatically search for your new digital channels. This could take up to 20 minutes. As the search ends, you will briefly see a message that indicates the box is storing the channels. You will then see a list of the channels that have been found and stored. Mission accomplished! Now press EXIT on your remote control.

As a result of re-numbering your channels, some other settings may have been affected, including 'Favourite channels'. The favourite channel feature allows you to skip straight past any channels you don't subscribe to and find the channels you want easier and faster.

You can reset your favourite channels as follows

- Tune into any ONdigital channel then press MENU.
- From the main menu, select option 2 by pressing the number 2 button. This will display a list of current channels.
- Use the UP and DOWN ARROW buttons to highlight a channel that you want to select as one of your favourites, then press the SELECT button. A heart symbol appears, confirming you've selected that channel. Continue to select other channels in this way, first highlighting them and then pressing the SELECT button.
- When you have placed hearts against all the channels you want to be your favourites, you then need to switch the favourites mode ON. The bottom of the screen indicates that you 'switch favourites on' by pressing the GREEN button. As you do this the menu heading at the top of the screen will indicate that 'favourites are on'. Press the red button on your remote control to go back to the main menu, then press exit on your remote control.
- If you want to switch the favourites mode off at any time, go back through the main menu and this time the bottom of the screen will indicate that you 'switch favourites off' by pressing the GREEN button. As you do, the top of the screen will indicate that 'favourites are off'.
- Should you wish to de-select some channels as your favourites, repeat the above steps, selecting option 2 from the main menu, highlighting the channel that you want to de-select using the UP and DOWN ARROW buttons, then finally press SELECT to remove the heart symbol.
- Once you have chosen your channels and switched the favourites mode on, when you use the P+ and P- buttons, you will only scroll through the selected channels.
- When using the UP and DOWN ARROW buttons with the on-screen TV guide, you will also see favourites only. To see other channels in this instance, use the number buttons or the on-screen channel list.

New Channel Line Up

As well as the channels shown below, you will find that space has been made for extra channels that are coming soon. 6th July 2001

Important customer announcement - ONdigital is becoming ITV Digital

Dear [redacted]

The next two months are shaping up as our busiest period since the launch of ONdigital over two years ago.

The most visible change occurs on Wednesday 11th July, when ONdigital joins forces with ITV and we change our name to ITV Digital. With the name change come some great new channels and services to complement your existing package. To be able to enjoy the new ITV Digital, you will need to re-tune your set top box (but more about that later).

So what will change?

Football fans are in for a treat. On 11th August we're introducing a brand new Premium channel called the ITV Sport Channel. This channel will show the UEFA Champions League, Nationwide Divisions 1, 2 & 3 as well as the Worthington Cup. If you sign up before launch, you will pay only £6.99 per month - that's £3.99 a month for the ITV Sport Channel and £3 a month for any Premier League pay-per-view matches* we broadcast, for an introductory period of 3 months. ONsport 1 and 2 will stop broadcasting on 12th August bringing to a close the UEFA Champions League coverage we have provided as a bonus channel for the last two seasons.

UK Style and UK Horizons will now be shown on separate channels, allowing fans to watch and enjoy these channels seven days a week. Our internet and interactive TV service called ONnet is being renamed ITV Active and will bring you access to the internet, shopping, games, entertainment and interactive services direct from your television. We'll also be bringing you Two Way TV, a new games channel that will be replacing ONGames.

What isn't going to change here at ITV Digital is our commitment to bringing you great television. You'll still be able to enjoy up to 50 great channels, and you'll find a full channel listing with the new channel numbers detailed on the reverse of this letter.

You need to re-tune your set top box to continue receiving great entertainment.

All you have to do is re-store your channels on (and not before) Wednesday, 11th July. This will allow you to get access to your new line up straight away.

Full, easy to follow, instructions are enclosed and our customer service team are only a phone call away if you need any assistance. More information can also be found on ONview/the ITV Digital information channel. For any services you pay for monthly, you will now see 'ITV Digital' replace 'ONdigital' on your bank statement. Your existing agreement is unaffected.

Welcome to ITV Digital - and don't forget if you need any help, please give us a call.

Yours sincerely,

Rob Fyfe
Managing Director

PS Please don't forget to re-store your channels on Wednesday, 11th July.

* Premier League pay-per-view matches are also available through ITV Sport Select separately from the ITV Sport Channel.

A big day in television. Our new channel line up.

A complete guide to make sure you're getting the most from ITV Digital

All you need to enjoy more great TV

Welcome to ITV Digital. It's our aim to bring you the very best entertainment, in the easiest, most enjoyable way. In this booklet you'll find a brief description of all of our channels and services along with a special offer (so keep an eye out).

But before we go any further, let's make sure you've set up your ITV Digital box.

Step 1 – Set up your box

Connect your ITV Digital box using the Set Up guide enclosed (that's the booklet that has "No mess, no fuss..." on the front). It's very simple and shouldn't take long.

Step 2 – Your channels

Your channels are divided into: Free, Primary and Premium channels:

Free

These are all your favourite channels – BBC1, BBC2, ITV, Channel 4 and Channel 5 – available to you with digital quality picture and sound. There's also a host of other digital channels, ranging from 24 hour news to travel, text services and shopping – and you'll get all of these completely free.

Primary

You've already prepaid for 6 channels for 12 months, so you just need to let us know which 6 you want. Why not upgrade to all the available Primary channels – that's another 10 channels for only £3 extra a month?

Premium

As well as our Primary channels you can also choose as many Premium channels as you want. These include the very best film and sports channels available. If you want to see just how good they are, why not take advantage of our introductory offer – get FilmFour and any one Sky Premium channel for just £1 each in your first month? See the back cover of this brochure for our standard Premium channel rates.

Step 3 – Additional services

You'll also need to let us know if you'd like to use ITV Select or ITV Active.

ITV Select (previously ONrequest)

Our pay-per-view entertainment service showing movies and events. Everyday you can choose to watch some of the latest and greatest Hollywood blockbusters. Check out ITV Select at the back of this leaflet.

ITV Active

Interactive services direct from your TV from the comfort of your living room - everything from interacting with live programmes and shopping to email and internet access. But more about that later.

Step 4 – Call the hotline number

So you're all connected and you've chosen which channels you want. Now all you need to do is call our hotline number on 0870 600 8686 to activate your subscription and start watching. When you call you'll be asked for your channel choice and whether you'd like to use our additional services. We'll also need a few details so please have the following to hand:

- Your account number (which is printed on your customer agreement)
- Your prepaid number (printed on a label at the back of your Set Up guide)
- Your smartcard number (found on the back of your smartcard)

Step 5 – Fill out your agreement form

Finally, if you've been given ITV Digital as a gift, you're adding Primary or Premium channels, or think you might want to use any of our other services, you'll need to fill out the agreement form (you'll find this at the back of this pack) and return it to us in the envelope provided.

Take a minute to look through everything we've got to offer.

Right, so what's this interactive stuff all about?

There are loads of fun and useful services available through your ITV Digital box, that you might not be aware of. This booklet tells you all about them without blinding you with technology, to help you get more out of your TV.

For instance, did you know that you can pit your wits interactively alongside the real contestants on Who Wants To Be A Millionaire? Or you can predict what will happen with Interactive ITV Sport.

You will find out about the exciting interactive programmes we've got coming up, how to use information services such as Teletext and ITV Text+, how to watch the latest film releases on ITV Select and play games. Finally take a look at how you can even surf the internet and email through your TV with ITV Active.

So, can I play along with TV programmes?

Yes, that's right. Whenever ITV1 is showing Who Wants To Be A Millionaire? ITV2 will broadcast the interactive version, so you can play along!

You will see the same questions the contestant does. Just press 1, 2, 3, or 4 on your ITV Digital remote control to answer. You will be playing against the clock so be quick. You score points for each right answer, alongside the contestants.

Collect enough points by the end of the game and you can enter a prize draw. It's brand new and exclusive to ITV Digital* – turn over to ITV2 and find out more and start playing.

Or you could try interactive This Morning on ITV1.

Just press RED while watching to get information on the show, including recipes and advice from the experts. Also, press YELLOW to get helpine information and details on relevant courses from Learndirect.

*And Digital Terrestrial Television.

Banzai, the successful spoof Japanese betting game show, is back on E4 (and will be showing on Channel 4 in February). On ITV Digital you can play along with the show, placing bets on the show's increasingly bizarre scenarios. See whether you're black belt material by predicting the outcome and you could become the Banzai Master!

The latest jaw-dropping BBC series, Walking with Beasts, is now interactive. Walk with beasts like the Mammoth and the Sabre-toothed cat and as you do, press RED on your remote control to find out even more fascinating details – when they lived and what their world was like. See the extra information on your TV while you watch the programme, so you don't need to miss the fantastic special effects.

Images supplied courtesy of Channel 4, BBC, Celador and Carlton Active.

Can I get more out of the game when I'm watching football?

ITV Digital has the best football. And now you can enjoy fantastic new interactive services for many of your favourite matches.

Press RED on your remote control when the prompt appears on screen, and get the latest results, sports and football news, fixture lists and league tables.

Or try some great interactive games in association with Littlewoods – like Predictor. Answer the questions with your predictions at the start of the match, and again at half time. If you get enough predictions right during the game, you can win a replica football shirt and tickets to some top games!

Last year, the BBC brought you interactive Wimbledon and Golf. Plus in 2002, BBCi is also launching FA Cup Interactive, and a range of other interactive sport events.

Interactive viewing gives sport coverage a new layer of detail – dive in and out of the information, take part in quizzes, find out player information and just get more involved.

Look out for the Press RED prompt on your favourite sports.

How do I keep Al's nephew quiet when he visits?

Well how about some interactive games from ITV Digital – that'll keep him quiet!

There are great games on ITV Digital, so the kids and Al don't get bored. We've had Strategy games like Tom and Jerry, Quizzes, Skill games and Card games such as Poker.

And the best bit is that all these games are available free as part of your basic ITV Digital subscription.

At the moment there's Ski Bob, a game of skill, and Aqueduct, a strategy game on your TV. Watch out for more exciting games in 2002.

Keep an eye out for information about new releases in TV7.

*These games have been previously featured on ITV Digital.

What if I want to watch the latest movies?

ITV Select will keep you in movies all through the day.
A pay-per-view service, you only pay for what you order so there's no commitment or monthly subscription charge.

Movies are scheduled throughout the day, so you will always find a showing to suit you. ITV Select is on channels 50-55, broadcasting great movie premiers on ITV Digital like Unbreakable, Billy Elliot and Coyote Ugly.

So with the latest movies direct to your TV, that'll be the end of cold winter nights spent queuing, empty shelves at the video shop and late fees.

And as a seasonal extra our Unreal Movie Deal means that throughout Christmas we're offering any of our movies for just £1.99* making them the best value blockbusters around!

You must show us your network control offer card. Non-UK Digital customers pay £2.99. Offer excludes F.A. Bedazzled © 2000 Twentieth Century Fox. ARRR, Unbreakable Universal Studios. ARR. Coyote Ugly © 2000 Touchstone Pictures. Jem & Holograms © 2000 Warner Bros. ARRR

Anything else I might need to know?

Is this interactive stuff easy to use?

The following buttons are used on interactive services:

TEXT – this brings up any of the Information and text services on ITV Digital. Also, this button takes you to Digital Text service from any of the channels available from Channel 4 or the BBC.

RED – press RED to bring up the interactive screens on programmes such as The Premiership and Walking with Beasts.

COLOUR BUTTONS – they take you to different parts of a service. Look for coloured text along the bottom of the screen and press the corresponding button. Sometimes, pressing a button will bring up a list – press the UP and DOWN arrow buttons and the SELECT button to choose.

ARROW KEYS and SELECT – to choose an item, move to it and press SELECT NUMBER BUTTONS – these can also be used to make selections. If you see a number next to an option, press the corresponding key. For example, these buttons are used to choose your answers on Who Wants To Be A Millionaire?

EXIT – press this button to leave an interactive service. Pressing the Programme + - buttons to change channel will also make an application disappear.

How do I get interactive Who Wants To Be A Millionaire?

Just switch over to ITV2, wait for the prompt and press the RED button. You will need to load the Millionaire game by pressing standby on your remote control for three seconds, release and then press standby again, you are ready to play.

Do I need to upgrade the software in my box?

You may need to. It's essential this is done regularly to ensure your box works correctly with the latest interactive services. Your ITV Digital box will soon have a new feature by which it can update itself. If you see a prompt to do this, follow the on screen instructions.

To upgrade now, press MENU on your ITV Digital remote control, then select option 7 – Technical Information, then option 3 – Auto Update. This will take a few minutes to complete. If your box displays Update Error you already have the latest software.

Also, do you have the latest channel line up? Check this with our add channels function. Select MENU on your ITV Digital remote control, select option 5 Getting Started and then option 3 Add channels.

What is my Parental code?

This code is needed when you want to order an ITV Select movie or update certain features on your ITV Digital box. If you're not sure what this number is and need to use it, contact ITV Digital customer services.

Can I receive all these services on an integrated digital TV?

Most of the services in this guide work on an integrated digital TV (DTV)*. However, there are a few things that only work with an ITV Digital box, or look slightly different on a DTV.

Unfortunately, our games channel and ITV Select only work with an ITV Digital box. We are working to change this, and we will keep you posted on further developments as they happen.

How do I plug in my phone line?

We advise you to do this so you can simply order ITV Select films with your remote control. It will also mean you are ready to start using some great new interactive features coming up in the future. If you still have the phone lead that came with your box, plug this into the back of your ITV Digital Box in the Modem socket and put the other end into your phone socket, and get your movie.

Do I need any extra equipment to receive these services?

Everything, except ITV Active, is received through your TV aerial. So all you need is ITV Digital, your remote control and a TV. If you want all the extra benefits of internet access and email through your TV, then we will send you everything you need to get online with ITV Active.

What channels will I be able to watch?

Receiving digital TV through an aerial is the best way of seeing your favourite channels in digital as well as a wide selection of new ones. That's because digital ITV and the new ITV2 are not available on satellite.

You'll also be able to receive BBC ONE, BBC TWO, Channel 4 and Channel 5 in digital quality. Plus other new 'Free-to-View' channels, including BBC NEWS 24 and BBC CHOICE.

On top of these you can receive a choice of other great channels from key broadcasters as well as Digital Teletext (coming soon).

To make things simple, we've grouped the channels you can watch under three headings: Free-to-View, Primary and Premium.

Free-to-View channels

BBC ONE, BBC TWO, ITV, Channel 4, Channel 5 and Digital Teletext are known as 'Free-to-View' channels. If you receive digital TV through an aerial you can watch them in digital at no extra cost. There are other exciting new Free-to-View channels to watch including ITV2, BBC CHOICE and BBC NEWS 24. All BBC digital services are available as part of the licence fee.

ONdigital Primary channels

ONdigital lets you view a wide variety of Primary channels which you pay for by subscription. These offer lots for all the family, including documentaries, films, sports and cartoons. Choose any six or go for all of ONdigital's Primary channels - the choice is yours, and the amount you pay depends on the number you take. You also get First ONdigital and Shop! as free bonuses.

UEFA Champions League

ONdigital viewers can look forward to live coverage of the UEFA Champions League from this Autumn. Free to all ONdigital customers who take six or more Primary channels for the '99/2000 season [subject to coverage], the world's most thrilling club competition is not to be missed.

ONdigital Premium channels

For a little extra each month you can watch FilmFour or the Sky Premium channels - Sky Premier, Sky MovieMax, and Sky Sports 1 (with Sky Sports 3 as a bonus channel). So you can catch everything from the latest blockbusters to all the live televised Premier League soccer action.

Pick and mix the Primary channels you want

Some television companies only offer set packages that include channels you don't want. Worse still, you have to pay for the channels you never view.

So it's good to know that ONdigital lets you choose your own Primary channels.

ONdigital is the only service which gives you this freedom of choice.

You can also change your choice of channels free of charge. We just ask that you keep them for a minimum of 30 days.

A great choice of channels

Unless you opt for the Basic Entry Choice you can choose any six or take all of our Primary channels.

That's in addition to two bonus services: First ONdigital (our special showcase service featuring first screenings of major dramas, entertainment, comedy, music and exclusive sporting occasions) and Shop!, a new shopping channel from Granada and Littlewoods.

Then simply add and pay for the Premium channels you want.

As an introductory offer you can choose to receive all ONdigital Primary channels for the price of six for the first three months.

Then, you simply pick those you want to receive to create your very own line up.
